The 2019 North American Shale Magazine Map captures the current shale scene in a unique format. The stunning design—combined with powerful data and content—displays the must-know stats and storylines that define the current state of shale across North America.

Created to catch the eye and accurately depict the major trends dominating individual plays, the 2019 North American Shale Magazine Map is a new, content rich offering for anyone invested or linked to the industry. Developed by the editorial and art staff, the map's purpose is to provide a comprehensive snapshot of the near-term shale landscape through important graphics, telling data points and concise summaries in a large display map-infographic hybrid format worthy of framing.

From the Permian to the Bakken, this hybrid map-infographic pinpoints and highlights the elements of each play that make it different or similar compared to other plays by infusing new input with traditional map styles.
